

Tales from the Start-up: The Boardroom (inspired by a true story!)

Ladies and gentlemen of the Board, it has been an excellent year and our company is well-poised to make big moves in the market...

... And if we're willing to make the investment I see big dividends...

But we're already Spending $42 million...

... a quarter ...

... We don't have that much money

A year?

So?

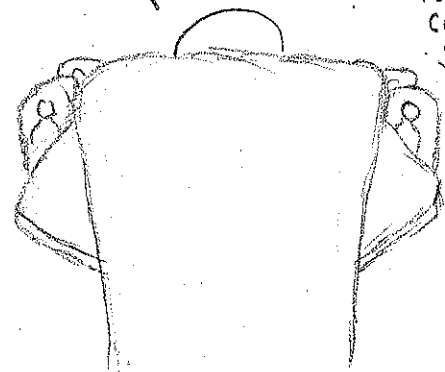

How much do we have?

Last year we made 16 cents.

Net?

Gross.

Better set up a meeting with some VC's then.

Shall I fuel up the corporate jet, sir?
